

Prawle Point

- Description: To the east of Prawle Point is a long rocky beach with pebble patches in places and a pebble beach at Langerstone Point.
- Safety: No details available.
- Access: The pebble beach at Langerstone Point can be accessed from the coast path. There is also a path down to the rocks by Prawle Point.
- Directions: Prawle Point is about 8 miles from Kingsbridge and about 28 miles from Plymouth. Take the A379 from Plymouth to Kingsbridge or alternatively take the A381 from Totnes to Kingsbridge. At Kingsbridge follow the A379 through Kingsbridge and out of Kingsbridge to the east. On the A379 at the village of Frogmore, turn right (signposted to East Prawle). Follow this road for about a mile and then turn left at a junction (again signposted to East Prawle). Continue on this road through the hamlet of Ford and then continue on this road for about a mile and then turn right at a junction. Continue on this road to East Prawle. At East Prawle drive through the village past the green and follow the lane out of the village west. This lane leads to the Prawle Point car park.
